On the eve of his
thirtieth birthday,
Miguel Santos leaves
his high-powered life
behind for a visit to the small town he grew up
in... and the high school sweetheart

 whose wild passion
 he's never stopped
 craving. Faith Bennett loved Miguel the
 moment she saw him.
 But she always knew
 his future was in New York, while hers was tied to the auto shop
 that was her close-knit family's livelihood.
 Pushing him away
 nearly broke her, but when he took her heart
 with him, he left
 something precious
 behind. Now he's back,
 demanding her body,
 her desire, her very soul as retribution for
 the pain he still carries.
 He won't settle for anything less than
 everything she's got,
 but she still can't leave
 with him and he still can't stay, and their past has secrets too
 explosive to share.

association with Save
the Children Priscilla Alderson examines the
often overlooked issue
of the rights of young children, starting with the question of how the 1989 UN

Convention on the Rights of the Child
applies to the youngest children, from birth to eight years of age. The question of finding a balance between
young children's rights
to protection, to provision (resources
and services) and to
participation (expressing their
views, being responsible) is discussed. The author
suggests that, in the belief we are looking after their best interests, we have

become overprotective
of children and deny them the freedom to be expressive, creative and active, and that
improving the way
adults and children
communicate is the best way of redressing
that balance. This second edition has been updated and
expanded to include
the relevance of
UNCRC rights of
premature babies,
international examples
such as the Chinese
one-child policy,
children's influence on
regional policies, and the influence on young children's lives of
policies such as Every Child Matters and
those of the World Bank, IMF, OECD and
UNICEF. This readable, informative and
thought-provoking
book is a compelling invitation to rethink our attitudes to young children's rights in the light of new theories, research and practical evidence about children's daily lives. It will be of interest to anyone who works with young children.

À la carte wisdom from the international bestseller Bringing up Bébé In BRINGING UP BÉBÉ, journalist and mother Pamela Druckerman investigated a society of good sleepers, gourmet eaters, and mostly calm parents. BÉBÉ DAY BY DAY distills the lessons of BRINGING UP BÉBÉ into an easy-to-read guide for parents and caregivers. How do you teach your child patience? How do you get him to like broccoli? Historical Dictionary of Albania Penguin

An old woman is awoken in the dead of night by knocks at her front door. The woman opens it to find her daughter, Doruntine, standing there alone in the darkness. She has been brought home from a distant land by a mysterious rider she claims is her brother Konstandin. But unbeknownst to her, Konstandin has been dead for years. What follows is chain of events which plunges a medieval village into fear and mistrust. Who is the ghost rider? Albanian Literature Council of Europe After the recent success of Princess, More Tears to Cry the Princess Al-Saud and Jean Sasson are collaborating on this new book to bring readers up to date not only with the Princess and her family but the stories and experiences of characters who formed the focus of the last book: Dr Meena - the woman who helps abused women to heal and fight for their rights, and Fatima, the mother of twin daughters who, once abused and abandoned by her family, now works for the Princess in one of the royal palaces. Here too, are the stories of other Muslim women - women who are struggling with human rights abuses from across the region - from Pakistan, Syria and Northern Lebanon - and the many innocent victims who suffer the consequences of ISIS's march across the Middle East. This new book will attract both Jean Sasson's many loyal readers and new audiences eager to learn more about not only how the Saudi

Royal family live, but how with courage and determination the Princess continues the fight for equal rights for women in the Middle East.

The Autobiography of the People in Verse Canongate Books

It is the early fifteenth century and as winter falls away the people of Albania know their fate is sealed. Their refusal to negotiate with the Ottoman Empire means war is now inevitable. Soon, dust kicked up by Turkish horses is spotted from a citadel. Tens of thousands of men begin to fill the plain below. The Siege tells the enthralling story of the weeks and months that follow—of the exhilaration and despair of the battlefield, the shifting strategies of war, and those whose lives are held in the balance. For those trapped inside the citadel, and for the Pasha, the artillerymen, astrologer, blind poet and his harem of women outside, the siege is inescapable and increasingly oppressive. From this dramatic setting Kadare has created one of his masterpieces, a profound novel that is as moving as it is compelling. It is an unforgettable account of the clash of two civilisations and a timeless depiction of individual pain, uncertainty and fear. Kadare is one of our most significant writers.

It is intended for all teachers, not only specialists but teachers in all subject areas, and teacher educators working in higher-education institutions or other settings, both in pre- and in-service training. Some 15 competences are presented and grouped into four clusters. Each cluster of competences corresponds to one chapter, within which the competences are described in detail and exemplified. The reader will find progression grids and suggested developmental activities for each competence: these grids, featuring focusing, developing, established and advanced practice, aim to help teachers and teacher educators determine the level to which their professional practice corresponds, and thus identify specific and practical improvements upon which they can focus. Masterful in its simplicity, Chronicle in Stone is a touching coming-of-age story and a testament to the perseverance of the human spirit. Surrounded by the magic of beautiful women and literature, a boy must endure the deprivations of war as he suffers the hardships of growing up. His sleepy country has just thrown off centuries of tyranny, but new waves of domination inundate his city. Through the boy's eyes, we see the terrors of World War II as he witnesses fascist invasions, allied bombings, partisan infighting, and the many faces of human cruelty—as well as the simple pleasures of life. Evacuating to the countryside, he expects to find an ideal world full of extraordinary things, but discovers instead an archaic backwater where a severed arm becomes a talisman and deflowered girls mysteriously vanish. Woven between the chapters of the boy's story are tantalizing fragments of the city's history. As the devastation mounts, the fragments lose coherence, and we perceive firsthand how the violence of war destroys more than just buildings and bridges.

Two destinies intersect in this novel -- that of Gjorg, a young mountaineer who has just killed a man in order to avenge the death of his older brother, and who expects to be killed himself in keeping with the code of the highlands; and that of a young couple who have come to study the age-old customs, including the blood feud.
