The Model Rules of Professional Conduct provides an up-to-date resource for information on legal ethics. Federal, state and local courts in all jurisdictions look to the Rules for guidance in solving lawyer malpractice cases, disciplinary actions, disqualification issues, sanctions questions and much more. In this volume, black-letter Rules of Professional Conduct are followed by numbered Comments that explain each Rule's purpose and provide suggestions for its practical application. The Rules will help you identify proper conduct in a variety of given situations, review those instances where discretionary action is possible, and define the nature of the relationship between you and your clients, colleagues and the courts.

Excerpt from Imported Merchandise and Retail Prices: Letter From the Secretary of

Treasury Transmitting Pursuant to Request of the Senate Committee on Finance, a Report by the Treasury Department on Foreign and Landed Valuation of Imported Merchandise and the Retail Selling Price in the United States These articles were manufactured in more than a score of different countries, including China, Japan, England, France, Italy, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Belgium, Spain, Holland, Denmark, and Switzerland, where the cost of production and of labor are far below similar costs in the United States, due to a variety of conditions, from depreciated money to lower standards of living and sanitation, longer hours of work and child labor. On the following pages will be found photographs of foreign articles and accompanying each the sales slip showing the retail selling price together with a brief report of the United States Government appraiser of the foreign value, landed costs, etc., of these commodities When they passed through the United States customhouse. Th facts concerning the additional exhibits are given without photographs, although the original invoices and receipts are in the pos 'session of the Finance Committee. In many cases the importer was also the retailer; in other cases, the importer has made his profit between the importation and the retail sale. In any event it will be noted that the landed cost to the im porter of any article limits the selling price which an American manufacturer could secure for a similar or comparable article. If goods from abroad can be landed at a certain cost to the importer, the American manufacturer will have to meet this cost in order to compete with these imported articles on the basis of that landed cost. In submitting this report on the tariff exhibit to the Senate, the Finance Committee calls attention to the following facts established by the joint investigation of the Treasury Department and the committee. "The Earth's vast surroundings are full of manmade infections. For good or bad, these infections have violated and transformed our bodies and senses in one form or another. Immune is a discovery of the "new body" surviving in an environment full of scientific manipulation, religious manipulation and social manipulation. In order to find ourselves, we must destroy ourselves. The human race craves the experience." -- Introduction.

Christmas Letter to Santa

This book is a collection of nearly 250 shortened or adapted business letters that were actually emailed, faxed, or posted. While the letters vary in complexity and length, all samples are comprised of straightforward sentences that upper intermediate readers of English as a second language should have no difficulty understanding and using. The book should also be useful for native English speakers seeking a fundamental approach to written business communication and for teachers in need of business-writing source material and exercises. The book is divided into three parts: Part 1: Letter samples and answers to the exercises (usually letter revisions). Part 2: Exercises (original letters, situational assignments, and sequencing assignments). Part 3: Hotel and travel matters.
